Dax Outlook Week 35

After a drop at the beginning of week 34 the Dax recovered towards the end to 8’417.

The MACD is slightly bearish, the RSI is neutral and the VDAX eased to 14.72.

It seems that there is currently a sideways range being established between 82’10 and 8’460. Therefore for me the most likely scenario is a test of 8’460 and then a decrease towards 8’300 in the coming week 35.
